

Customer Satisfaction & Operational Excellence

Delaware Depository is managed and operated by precious metals professionals with extensive experience providing customer-oriented, cost-effective depository services. When your bullion is stored at Delaware Depository, you can be confident that it will be safeguarded, processed and delivered with care, competence and accountability. Storage fees are highly competitive. Customer service is responsive and friendly. And you can be certain that your affairs will always remain private as your account activity and personal information are held in strict confidence.

All bullion is fully allocated and held off-balance sheet, subject only to your instructions. This means that, at all times, you are recognized as the sole owner and title holder of your bullion. Because Delaware Depository has no debt, and does not lend, pledge or encumber any bullion in its care, your bullion is safe from creditors. You will also have the security of knowing exactly what you own when you receive account statements and confirmations, and the convenience of being able to transfer your bullion directly to another depository account, such as a dealer's or custodian's, saving you time, money and hassle.

Delaware Advantage

Further enhancing its service capabilities, Delaware Depository is geographically away from the threats associated with major political and financial centers such as Washington DC and New York City, yet conveniently located near major transportation hubs. And the area is relatively free from natural disasters. Furthermore, the state of Delaware imposes no sales tax on the purchase, administration, or storage of precious metals.

There are no corporate net worth, personal inventory or transfer taxes applied to physical bullion transactions. And unlike some other states, the sale of bullion does not create a nexus status for state income tax purposes.

Total Security & Full Access

Holding precious metals bullion coins and bars in one's own possession, or storing them in a bank safe deposit box, can present a host of security, logistics, insurance, and even personal safety concerns.

You need ready access to your bullion. And you want to place it in the most secure location.

Delaware Depository provides you with the best of both worlds.

Delaware Depository is widely recognized as an industry-leading provider of physical precious metals bullion safekeeping and distribution services. Delaware Depository serves major commodity exchanges, financial institutions, IRA custodians, commercial entities, industrial companies and individual investors. Due to its unique qualifications, bullion held in its physical possession conforms to IRS requirements and is acceptable in individual retirement accounts (IRAs).

When you store your bullion at Delaware Depository, taking delivery, or shipping or transferring to your broker, dealer or custodian is quick and easy. Most bullion moves are processed the very next day, providing you with ready access to your bullion and increased liquidity.
